

Laced: A Regan Reilly Mystery

A haunted castle, a pair of international jewel thieves, and a hotel fire - so begins Regan and Jack Reillys honeymoon in Ireland . . . Private Investigator Regan Reilly and her husband, Jack, head of the Major Case Squad in New York City, have just gotten hitched! Theyve headed to Hennessy Castle, a romantic spot in western Ireland - seemingly the perfect place to escape the world and the criminals they deal with daily - to begin their lives together. But Hennessy Castle is hardly relaxing! Their first afternoon in Ireland, Regan and Jack go out for a jog, stopping at an old graveyard at the edge of town. The first tombstone they see is marked REILLY. Turns out May Reilly, who died in 1822, was a talented lacemaker who made an exquisite tablecloth for a banquet at Hennessy Castle but was never paid. Legend has it that May has haunted the castle ever since. Awakened in the middle of the night, Regan spots a mysterious woman on the back lawn of the castle. At the sound of Jacks voice, Regan turns her head for a moment. When she turns back, the woman is gone. A moment later, the hotels fire alarm goes off. In the ensuing melee, Regan and Jack meet a young American Irish couple, Sheila and Brian OShea, who have started a business selling Irish memorabilia - but on this trip to Ireland their business is to pick up paintings theyve commissioned from a superstitious amateur artist who doesnt realize the value of her work. The last thing these two online entrepreneurs want is for Regan and Jack to figure out what theyre up to.
