

The Merlot Murders: A Wine Country Mystery

A phone call at two thirty in the morning is never good news. Lucie Montgomerys semiestranged brother, Eli, calls her in France to tell her their father, Leland, has been killed in a hunting accident on the familys five-hundred-acre Virginia vineyard just as the fall harvest is about to begin. By the time he calls, Eli has already made funeral arrangements with what Lucie argues is indecent haste. It is an emotional trip home -- the first since an automobile accident two years ago, which left Lucie disabled and dependent on a cane. Her familys once elegant home and winery are now shabby and run-down, thanks to her fathers penchant for fringy business deals. Eli, also cash-strapped and desperate to support his new wifes extravagant lifestyle, has already convinced their rebellious younger sister, Mia, to sell the debt-ridden estate and reap the profits from the valuable land it sits on, overruling Lucies protests. On the eve of the funeral Lucies godfather, Fitz, a partner in the family business, tells her Lelands death was no accident. Whoever killed him was motivated by the potential sale of the vineyard. It is the last conversation she will have with Fitz. Now the lone holdout preventing the vineyard sale, Lucie realizes shes next in line for another accident. With her greedy brother, hell-raising sister, and a seemingly cut-rate vintner hired by Leland just before he died, all the suspects are disturbingly close to home. Unsure whom she can trust, Lucie must uncover the truth about the deaths of her father and godfather -- and oversee a successful harvest to save the vineyard she loves. Set in the historic heart of Virginias horse and hunt country, The Merlot Murders is filled with fascinating detail about the science and alchemy of wine making.
